A Settlement has been reached in a class action lawsuit against Educational Financial Solutions, LLC d/b/a Campus Debt Solutions (“CDS”) and others for allegedly placing automated telephone calls to cellular telephones advertising CDS’s student loan consolidation and loan forgiveness services, without prior express written consent. The case is known as Cabiness v. Educational Financial Solutions, LLC d/b/a Campus Debt Solutions, et al., Case No. 3:16-cv-01109-JST (U.S. District Court N.D. Cal.) Defendants deny that they did anything wrong.

WHO IS A CLASS MEMBER?

You are in the Settlement Class because records show that on or after October 16, 2013, your cellular telephone was called on by one of the named Defendants, advertising CDS’s student loan consolidation and loan forgiveness services, allegedly using an automated telephone dialing system.

DO I HAVE A LAWYER?

Yes. The Court has appointed the following lawyers to represent the class: Kemnitzer, Barron & Krieg, LLP and the East Bay Community Law Center.

SETTLEMENT TERMS

Defendants will pay $1,100,000 into a fund that will cover: (1) cash payment to Class Members that the Settlement Administrator has addresses for; (2) attorneys’ fees to Class Counsel not to exceed $330,000 and Class Counsel’s out-of-pocket expenses, not to exceed $20,000, as approved by the Court; (3) a Service Award of $10,000 to the Class Representative, subject to approval by the Court; and (4) the costs of administering the Settlement. Your share of the fund will depend on how many valid addresses the Settlement Administrator is able to obtain. Class Counsel estimates that you will receive approximately $20. You may receive more. The $1,100,000 will be divided among Class Members with valid addresses after deducting settlement expenses, attorneys’ fees and costs, and the Service Award.

In addition, the Settlement enjoins Defendants from using an ATDS to place telemarketing calls on behalf of CDS without obtaining prior express written consent.
